Scott McConchie is an experienced civil litigator, with a focus on commercial and employment litigation.

A partner in the firm's Litigation Department, Scott regularly appears in state and federal court, representing large corporations and financial institutions, small businesses, and individuals. He is also experienced in bar disciplinary proceedings and is often engaged by national law firms seeking local counsel in Massachusetts. Scott's approach to litigation is collaborative; he works with – and not simply for – his clients in developing creative and pragmatic solutions to the problems his clients face.

In 2015, Scott was appointed to be a Hearing Committee Member for the Board of Bar Overseers (BBO) of the Supreme Judicial Court, and was appointed for a second term in 2018. The Hearing Committees are fact-finding tribunals in disciplinary proceedings; as such, they hear testimony, take evidence, make adjudicatory rulings, and prepare a written report and recommendation for the Board of Bar Overseers. From 2017 to 2021, he was a member of the Boston Bar Association (BBA) Business and Commercial Litigation Steering Committee, where he organized and presented educational programs.

An attorney since 1996, Scott began his career at Choate Hall & Stewart, where he was a member of the litigation and employment law departments, and then practiced with other former Choate lawyers for thirteen years at the Boston litigation boutique Griesinger Tighe & Maffei. Scott then worked at Sherin and Lodgen for three years in the Litigation Department before spending six years practicing at Manchel & Brennan. Scott rejoined Sherin and Lodgen in 2023.
